Philom Bios Inc. Announces Addition to Board of Directors

Saskatoon, SK, CANADA — The Board of Directors of Philom Bios Inc. is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. John Becherer to the Board. This appointment adds further strength to the Company's Board of Directors and represents another step in the Company's strategy to accelerate the growth of its business.

"We are delighted that John is joining us", said John Cross, Chairman of Philom Bios. "His proven leadership skill and broad experience in the U.S. and global agricultural sector is a strong addition to our Board."

John holds a B.Sc. degree in Economics from the University of Wisconsin and a M.Sc. degree in Agricultural Economics from Purdue University. Mr. Becherer resides in St. Louis, MO and is CEO of the United Soybean Board (USB). The USB manages the soybean check-off marketing and research program which builds demand for and expands utilization of soybeans. He has held a number of key leadership positions over the past 20 years focused on helping U.S. farmers produce food profitably and in ever increasingly sustainable ways.

"These are increasingly challenging times for farmers everywhere. We are firm in our commitment to meet the needs of more customers by helping them be more profitable" says Cross. "John's blend of leadership and business skills will augment our ability to deliver on this commitment and drive our global business growth."
